UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME Rector position openings for 2011-2012

Accept the challenge. Join a team of men and women ministers who carry on the rich tradition of serving as Rectors of residence halls at the University of Notre Dame.

◆ Founded by the Congregation of Holy Cross, Notre Dame is one of the premier Catholic universities in the United States. Approximately 80% of the University's 8,800 undergraduates choose to live on-campus in 29 single-sex halls. The University prizes residential life for the unique opportunities it offers students to develop the commitment to service and sense of responsibility essential for leadership beyond college. Under the direction of the Rector, each hall is a community of faith and learning, where students are encouraged to integrate the intellectual, spiritual and social dimensions of their education.

◆ The Office of Student Affairs is now accepting applications for the position of Rector for the 2011-2012 academic year. This is a full-time, academic year position. Living alongside students in the residence hall and accompanying them on their journey of faith, the rector counsels and advises, provides critical support, and when necessary, calls them to accountability. The Rector oversees a staff which includes graduate student Assistant Rectors and senior students who serve as Resident Assistants. Collaboration with a wide array of University departments responsible for student welfare and University facilities is an essential feature of the Rector position.

◆ The successful candidate will possess a Master's degree and a minimum of three years experience in a related field, such as pastoral ministry, education, student personnel or counseling. For further information and application materials, visit our website at: osa.nd.edu
